

WhatsApp

A simple idea turned into a revolutionary service that is used by 1.5 billion individuals today

In January 2009, a small web-based messaging application known as WhatsApp was launched, and the world of messaging and social media were instantaneously changed forever.

WhatsApp is perhaps the best-known messaging application in the world. An application made out of quite a genius, yet simple, idea based on the concept of SMSs which are free of cost has turned into a huge hit. Soon after its launch, WhatsApp was all over the internet-messaging world overtaking Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn and Google Plus and even SMSs to become the most-utilized messaging-platform in the world.

Having one of the widest bases of users and the most active daily users in the entire world underlines the importance, in terms of the prospects,
