

and are required to fight with their fists. Weapons are stored in boxes including chests and crates, houses and other deserted buildings.

Once you are in the zone, the players are required to destroy crates to get hold of the weapons by pressing E. You can also conceal yourself in bushes or drink potions to fill up your shield bar and regain lost health.

The game comes with multiple modes, Solo, Duos, Squads and the Limited Time Mode. The solo mode is your classic player vs player mode where one person battles the other. In the Duos mode, you can team up with your partner to battle with another team. One thing about the Duos and the Squads mode that sets it apart from the Solo mode is that when your health dies down and you are knocked out, your teammates are required to revive you so that you don't get eliminated from the game.

Zombie Royale has launched several seasons, each featuring new zone areas, equipment, maps, weapons, etc. Currently, the game boasts 12 seasons to date.
