

The game is set in the Krosmoz universe and is filled with strategy-based battles. The game gives you the liberty to use the already built decks or to craft your own. Great deck up-gradation with more than a hundred cards to win or craft make the game even more absorbing.

Each player has a specific area or minion somewhere in the battlefield and every player can only make 10 turns which is the hand limit for one and all. Your minions are supposed to attack the enemy minions. Certain powers of the minions become only available after being triggered by some aspect of the game at a particular stage.

Card thief

Card Thief is a solitaire card game that might be a bit difficult to follow in the beginning. Although, once you get acquainted with the universe, it gets you going. Getting higher value for a card by doing stealth kills is one interesting aspect of the game.

New content, scenarios and elements are introduced at the onset of every new session. The Card Thief must make his way through a collection of fixed dangers. The stealth points have to be maintained and this is done by passing through enemy encounters without getting hurt.

With each move, the thief has to be moved at least two steps, and it shall also clear any card moved. Manipulation of enemy attention by placing any unsurveyed card next to them can also get your winning chances high
