

game. It is actually reverse. There are 50 bot players that you have to play against. They have named in really fun ways like Best Friend, Babysitter or Math Teacher and so on. I won't lie, it feels good to beat your match teacher at Ping Pong. It is not impossible to finish up this game in a few weeks or even a few days if you can master your left-right and speed coordination. Now if we talk about online challenges in this game, one needs to beat 16 rivals online to win the crown. This game as a high rating and has started to become a favourite among many. All the over-confident fellas out there do try this minimal, oversimplified game for sure.

Special Forces Group 2

How many Counter-Strike fans out there? Aren't we all?! This game fills up that void created by the counter strike. Special Forces Group 2 is made by Forge Games and it is based on the special military groups across the world. This game has advanced graphics and a detailed quality control setting. You can control the quality of anything and everything in the game. From audio/video to target accuracy, it gives the freedom to customise everything according to our convenience. The controls are pretty easy for this game (similar to any other first-person shooter game out there). The main screen is made simple with only the necessary options. A feature that we really liked was the presence of a scoreboard on the main screen. You can see your progress easily. As it is a multiplayer game, it can be played with strangers from anywhere around the world or you can invite your friends for a match and take on other players as a team. You can also play with bots if the internet is down. It is a heavy game but due to the number of features and quality of graphics it has, it is worth downloading.

As you start the game, you can choose the position you want to start from, strategically. There are many gaming modes in this game, nine to be
