

FIE Swordplay is a 3D game, where the central concept of the game is basically fencing. In FIE Swordplay, players in the game will be competing against players from different countries and will be traveling to different parts of the world to polish their fencing skills.

Now jumping to the user-friendliness of this game, this mobile game can be called one of the most easy-to-use games and is user-friendly. The simple keys for direction and instructions are given on the corner of the screen. The game unfolds in different levels with increasing difficulty and challenges.

As the players keep winning rounds or levels of the competitions, they will be rewarded with different upgrades and types of equipment to increase their efficiency in the game.

The visuals which are used in this game are highly commendable.

eFootball PES 2020

If you are looking for the best Football stimulation mobile video game for Android and iOS, you can't go wrong with eFootball PES 2020. The game was developed by PES productions and was released on 10th and 12th September 2019, in different parts of the world. Since then, it has received a great response from the players. You have two options – single-player as well as the multiplayer options to choose from. The cover star of this all-new eFootball PES 2020 is Lionel Messi.

The main goal of the developers and publishers of this game was to give its players one of the best football experiences in the most thrilling