

One more distinguishing feature of the game is its startling simplicity that looms large in every single aspect of the game. From design of the cars to the aesthetics of the game, it defines the game's look and feel. The game is relatively more popular among those between the ages of 10 to 16. The game neither endorses nor depicts any kind of extreme driving or car-crashing. The game bears the testimony of a refined approach towards the idea of pure fun and amusement.

#DRIVE

It happens to be the new kid on the block, but #DRIVE is destined to grow, while treading a path that is less travelled by. It is unique in every possible way and does not bother to follow in the footprints of its ancestors who have done reasonably well to become popular in the genre of car racing.

#Drive is one of its kind that has carefully drawn its references from action packed hollywood movies where the focus is laid on the racing
