

Gear up for TikTok

TikTok is used not just by adolescents, but also adults and some companies. Let's look into its proliferation

TikTok started around three years ago, earlier known as the app, Musical.ly. This app was previously only to be used for lip-syncing. Then it began to target Generation Z (the generation following millennials). Now, TikTok has more than 1 billion users, and the videos on the app are all 15 to 60 seconds long. The background music is usually from record labels and famous artists from Hollywood and Bollywood, and it is a great platform to showcase your talent. It is shocking to witness how quickly Gen Z got hooked to it.
