

and services. In all cases, privacy is paramount, and you can have your account open to the public or have your account open only for your friends, family, and those of whom you already know.

TikTok is rising above its market and competitors, and 29% of the users of TikTok open the app every day, which is not too high, but it's not low either.

If you are on TikTok, then do not miss the challenges. You would also love participating in a TikTok duet. The challenge is accepted when you pick a hashtag that has become famous and add your blog post with the same hashtag just like the GUESS campaign we discussed above.

Singing a duet is when you see a lyric video, and answer to that video with your music video, then share the combined video. These challenges, selling and buying, marketing, music, dancing, and chatting with friends or app mates are things that will have you make the most of a social networking platform.

Before we end, TikTok is no longer just for kids, but it still has the youngest user base. Yet, adults have been joining the app after mergers and acquisitions of the TikTok app. It is mostly a competition for Snapchat. The most asked for the genre on TikTok is a comedy, and the whole app is designed around it. It is edgy, though, while the slapstick genre is also appreciated.
