How to be an influential TikTok star?

Undeniably, in the age of content saturation, video content has emerged as the biggest panacea to enable content creators to continue to engage and monetise the curiosity of their target audiences. Content creators are now aware of the fact that to be the frontrunner, it has become crucial to rely on the Visual content as it is capable of striking a lasting user engagement, that too on a deeper level. The same fact can be further verified from the staggering success of online video content platforms like TikTok.
