

the benefit. However, if you curate and share news with them that concerns the major part of your audience, they will realize that you care about their success/knowledge too.

Everyone, outside of the platform, believes that Tik Tok is a money-making machine. However, you don't need to be obvious about it. Giving out a piece of information that might be relatable is what you need to do. Moreover, most millennials are not interested in giving importance to news channels. So, you could be their newsreader who tells them the latest happenings in an interesting but unique way.

Celebrate

We live in a world where there are numerous communities and religions living together. Not everyone celebrates the same festivals. However, you have to be the one celebrating all the festivals and diversity, at least in your videos. Why? Well, you don't have a limited audience, your viewers could be from any part of the world and you need to celebrate what your followers celebrate. Also, be creative with the way you celebrate and wish them.

Hashtags Work, Don't They?

Research has made it clear that posts with hashtags have fewer views. Hence, you need to limit the use of hashtags on your posts to the relevant ones. A word of advice, use the ones that have been trending, otherwise reconsider the usage of hashtags on regular posts.

Giveaways and Meetups

Your viewers want something back for the time they invest in watching