Learn how to create the basic building block of Unreal projects – Levels

Introduction

Reality, as we know it, no longer resides in tangible objects and things within reach. In fact, the reality of the planet now lies in the virtual reality of the world that we have created parallel to ours. It is a universe in itself, ever-growing and ever engulfing.

This virtual reality is powered by some of the biggest companies in the world. One such brand is Unreal. It is a company that is involved in the production of 'Unreal' and immersive experiences.

Known for being a company that is responsible for producing some of the best gaming experiences in the world, Unreal was set to become one of the tycoons in the gaming industry. But games, as much as they excel, are not the only things that Unreal has taken the initiative to build. In fact,
