

Google Chrome

The features of Chrome that make it one of the most preferred browsers

In this rapidly moving technological world, we are surrounded by so many technologies which promise us to make our life as easy as possible. There are tons of tools and software we currently have to make the most out of our day and boost productivity. One of them is the web browser we resort to daily. While there is a whole lot to choose from, there is certainly something that makes Chrome stand out. Apart from the intuitive yet fuss-free user interface and advanced specificities, Chrome has a library of nifty extensions as well which makes our lives easier yet again. According to the survey, most Internet users prefer to use the Chrome web browser and numbers are increasing swiftly. With that said, let's know what our favourite browser has more to explore by going through some common and unique features of the Chrome browser.