

- Home button and side button: The models that have a home button and a side button, you will just have to press the two together to take a screenshot.
- Top button and home button: If your iPhone has a top button and a home button, then press them together to take a screenshot.

5) PS4

This is where the excitement starts for the gamers! PlayStation 4 is one of the most widely used gaming devices, and if you are a gamer, you have definitely looked up ways to take a screenshot of your gameplay to show-off to your friends! There is a simple method to do this. It might get a little complicated, but with a little practice, you can do it like a pro!

- Press the 'Share' button: Your PS4 comes with a share button that can be pressed to take a screenshot. However, the way you press it matters here. Remember that to take a screenshot; you will have to press the button briefly, for not more than a second. Once you are done, you can long-press the button to share it with your friends.

6) Xbox One

Here is another gaming device for those who love gaming. Xbox One has recently introduced a screenshot feature for you to capture your open screen.

Here is the way you do it:

Press 'Y' when the Snap menu pops up: First, you will have to double-tap on the button on your

