

How to record your gameplay videos

Got an exciting game going on that you want to share? Record it and share away!

As a gamer, we know how much it satisfies us to see someone finishing up the game, which we have played, and when the game is challenging, it's all more fun to watch them die over again and again on the same boss that took us ten tries to beat. It feels like you are connected to the person whom you are watching. You are reliving your moments from your gameplay when you are watching someone playing the exact same game.