

DIY - Testing a website module with Selenium

Learn how to streamline and automate your work using Selenium

Selenium is a well-liked and highly-appreciated browser automation tool as it has lowered the manual testing time to a minimum. This task used to take a lot of time as testers handled each issue one by one. Especially for students and beginners, these multiple testing scenarios created a lot of problems for the whole procedure.