

5. Maono Cardioid Condenser PC Mic

This popular USB microphone has an inbuilt 14 mm electret condenser transducer. It allows you to suppress sound in the background and record or stream the best audio in front of the microphone. Its mic gain knob allows you to adjust the volume and sensitivity as desired.

Mainstream Microphones

Do you wish to strike a balance between your budget and the features? These best-5 picks to suit your aspirations for sure. We recommend the most reliable brands that users appreciate. So, we ensure better quality and durability of the products you buy.

Mainstream Microphones

6. MAONO AU-UL10 192 kHz/24-bit Mic

This versatile USB lavalier lapel microphone is compatible with PCs with different OS platforms and many other USB 2.0 powered devices. Clip it on to your shirt collar and get studio-quality sound for your recording, streaming, podcasting, and other relevant endeavours.

This mic has a metal clip, USB port, and a highly-sensitive sound pickup mic head. It is easy to use and offers better sound quality.