

- Its buffer replay feature allows you to save live recordings and replay for the viewers.
- You can see the live events and messages on a single screen with a game overlay feature.
- The Streamlabs OBS has a Multistream feature that allows you to engage with a broad audience with the facility of streaming on multiple platforms.

Restream

It is cloud-based multistreaming and broadcasting software that provides live video streaming on various social media channels such as YouTube, Facebook, Twitch, and more. This free video streaming software is compatible with all operating systems such as macOS, Windows, and Linux. Restream helps you to gain an audience, engage, and offers monetisation options.

The primary benefit of this cloud-powered software is that there is no need for additional bandwidth to create content. It allows you to stream any Real-time Messaging Protocol enabled channel via the platform. It offers a free version with a 7-day trial period.

Copyright Attribution: Restream.io

Restream

Here are some of its features:

- It helps you reach a broad target audience simultaneously by live streaming on other channels.
- It enables you to live to stream your videos with the use of several supported third-party apps.