Green screens and mixers

Playing around with multiple audio and video sources can be quite hectic without the right gear. Green screens and mixers are what you need.

Introduction

You need a professional look for your stream to stand out from the hundreds of streamers out there. Not everybody can afford to produce YouTube videos or live broadcasts in a professional studio. However, you don't need to fret because what you need is a green screen and a mixer. Add a green screen behind the subject and plug in a mixer to make magic happen. With green
