

You can make use of spoken words, memes, games that you and your audience are eagerly waiting for, etc. All these measures will also ensure that the audience receives positive vibes about your channel and its content. In simple words, do not just talk to people; instead, make sure to frequently engage with them. Keep engaging with your audience until you have gained their subscriptions. 