Finding software

The list of software that has been ported to FreeBSD is ever-growing. There are multiple ways to search for software that is compatible with usage on FreeBSD before proceeding to install them. The following is a list of these methods.

- Visit <https://www.FreeBSD.org/ports/>. This is the official list of FreeBSD ports compiled for public knowledge by FreeBSD. You can apply certain basic filters to this list to find out whether the software is ported to FreeBSD or not.
- Another similar list of ports is available at FreshPorts.org. The search capabilities on this site are slightly better. If you are registered with this website,
