

3. Next, you have to select the keyboard input layout and then press enter.

4. The network of the system has to be configured, and the screen will show you all the active ethernet options which can be used to maintain a bond interface and then configure the Ubuntu Archive Mirror.