

Getting started – time to get our hands dirty

So with the small talk out of the way, time to get down to business

Now that, we've gotten the history out of the way, time to jump right into it! From here on out, we'll get to know how the software functions and how we can learn the basics in the shortest time possible.

Once you get into the Adobe products page of After Effects, there's a Free Trial or Buy option, right in the middle of the screen and you just can't miss it. Once you click on the Free Trial option, you get to choose between
