

Saving your custom workspace – 3 clicks and naming your workspace is all it takes.

require only a couple of panels.

These can be accessed by Window → (Choose required panel)

These work-panels are present as a separate panel and you can choose only the ones you require on screen (denoted by a tick mark to the left of said panels). A versatile feature is that if you have a frequently used workspace, you can save it in AE for future use.

Click Window → Workspace → Save as New Workspace.

A new dialog box opens where you need to name your layout and you're good to go! d
