

16. Aave

Aave is Ethereum-based non-custodial money that was developed with the purpose to earn interest on deposits.

17. Bitcoin SV

Bitcoin SV or BSV is a popular type of cryptocurrency developed by forking Bitcoin. The primary purpose behind its formation was to promote more transactions at a time.

18. Elrond

Elrond is a blockchain-based protocol that promotes faster, securer, and scalable transactions.

19. EOS

EOS is a decentralised blockchain-based platform that promotes powerful business results through a well-designed network.

20. Cosmos

Cosmos is an ever-expanding ecosystem that includes a series of independent blockchains designed to scale operations.

21. TRON

TRON is a blockchain-based platform that has its own cryptocurrency called Tronix or TRX. It is used to develop decentralised applications.

22. Monero

Like bitcoin, Monero is a decentralised cryptocurrency that focuses on censored and private transactions.

23. NEM

NEM is another popular type of cryptocurrency that seamlessly blends between private and public blockchains.

24. Tezos

Tezos is an open-source, decentralised blockchain network that promotes peer-to-peer transactions.