

aims to promote high-speed transactions. Solana claims to process over 50,000 transactions per second without any glitches.

35. SushiSwap

A decentralised exchange, SushiSwap, is basically software that runs on Ethereum. SushiSwap lets users trade cryptocurrency tokens.

36. Dai

Built on Ethereum, Dai is a blockchain-based cryptocurrency whose only purpose is to keep its value closer to the United States dollar.

37. Huobi Token

Huobi Token is the official token of a centralised exchange called Huobi. It is the world's third-largest cryptocurrency exchange which provides advantages similar to Binance's.

38. Crypto.com coin

Crypto.com coin is the native token of Crypto.com public blockchain that enables transactions from between people and businesses all over the world.

39. FTX Token

FTX token is a derivatives exchange that promotes lower fees and higher socialised gains.

40. Binance USD

Binance USD or BUSD is launched in a partnership of Paxos and Binance, which is a stablecoin issued by Binance.

41. UMA

UMA is an Ethereum token that allows users to customise their own financial contracts without any outside interference.

42. Filecoin

Filecoin is an open-source digital payment system that is taking regular steps to make the web a more secure and efficient place to store data.

43. BitTorrent

Another popular peer-to-peer file sharing platform is BitTorrent. Over the