

Desktop Environment

What is a Desktop Environment and what does it do for your Linux Distro?

Introduction

Have you ever been in a situation where you like the beautiful home screen of someone's computer and are curious to know more about it? Well, that's because you're a regular Windows user and have no idea what the desktop environment is in a Linux OS.

Linux users have numerous options when choosing their desktop environment. It changes the way they perceive their computer. It's like your computer gets a new and stylish dress every time you change its desktop environment and the more you change the environment, the more your computer's wardrobe gets a revamp.
