

As with most mind maps, you'll begin with your central node, add text and icons, and optionally modify the colour. Then, in the surrounding circle, begin adding any related ideas. To do so, hit the Plus icon on the outer circle: Mindly will immediately construct a new node and zoom in to help you concentrate on the current task. As you go further into sub-ideas (and sub-sub-ideas!), you can always return to the central node by tapping on the circle in the top-left corner of the screen.

MindMup

MindMup is a simple-to-use mind mapping application that requires no registration. The top toolbar allows rapid access to all of mind mapping's fundamental functions, from altering the colour of each node to adding descriptive text and file attachments. However, it is the capability to publish and share your mind maps that distinguishes MindMup.
