

that it is based on a translucent theme which will be suitable for almost every wallpaper on your phone.

We really liked the translucent design choices that the dev has made and the widgets looked minimal and material too.

Here are some of the sample home screen setups that we made using this pack.

2. Lucent KWGT

Just like all the other widget packs in this list, Lucent has something unique to offer and hence, it earns 2nd place here.

The best part about this widget pack is in addition to offering the normal graphics-based widget, it also offers some text-based widgets which in our opinion, looks fantastic in some cases. Here are some of the sample home screen setups that we made using this pack.
