

- Keep an eye out for intriguing bargains. If an offer appears to be too good to be true, it most likely is. You can rapidly identify whether you're dealing with a legitimate offer or a trap by using a search engine to look up the topic.

- Do not connect an unfamiliar USB to your PC. On your system, you should also disable Autorun. When a CD, DVD, or USB device is placed into a drive, Autorun allows Windows to run the startup software automatically.
