

Internal Communication

Zabbix

Zabbix is a one of a kind of network monitoring software for IT infrastructure, services, resources, and applications. It is free software which has been crafted to monitor tons of metrics that have been gathered from multiple networks of devices, servers or virtual machines. When using Zabbix, users are able to collect and analyze the performance of metrics and statistics in order to interpret them and receive notifications about privacy and security issues in the present. It can be utilised in small or large businesses with multiple monitored devices.

Why you must get it:

Zabbix is affordable and powerful and has been used by businesses in all