

security apps it will be responsive in nature. It has essential security which is important while creating a website. It offers you two-factor authentication to avoid any chances of hacking.

Django

Django is a high-level, python web framework with a pragmatic design that encourages website development. The web application of the framework has good components with toolkits that are important for web applications. The main goal of Django is to allow developers to implement the

