

Google Workspace vs G Suite pricing

With regards to pricing, Google Workspace offers a similar model to G Suite, competing with other remote working solutions, such as Microsoft 365. However, Google Workspace does bring to the users a new payment tier. The Workspace Business Plus plan costs $18 per user per month. This Business Plus Plan comprises of number of upgrades over the Standard plan, which also includes more storage, enhanced security, and also a significant increase in the maximum number of participants per meeting.

Again, this can be compared to few other well-accepted remote working solutions. For instance, Microsoft has a Business Premium tier that costs $20 per user per month.
