

- Equipment selection
 - Audio recording & editing
 - Submission to Apple Podcasts (iTunes)
 - Promotion tips
- And much more...

Because podcasting is an area that is significantly less crowded and competitive than blogging is, right now is an excellent moment to get started with it.

There are slightly more than two million podcasts as of February 2023, yet there are more than 600 million blogs.

Are you interested in beginning a podcast in a hurry? Create an account with Buzzsprout, upload the audio recordings you want to submit, and then send them to Apple and Spotify. That's the quickest way about it and also the simplest. However, if you're interested in setting your podcast apart from the rest then read on.

Planning

This is the first stage, which is typically skipped over when making a podcast. Before continuing on, it is very recommended that you remain in this location for a considerable amount of time.

If you want to start planning your podcast like a pro, feel free to grab out a notebook or a whiteboard and write down some ideas.
