

AI Mania

Taking a deep dive into the world of
AI powered content generators

We are pretty sure that if there was one word that has been mentioned in every technology related discussion this year, it would be Artificial Intelligence, or AI for short. Ever since the introduction of tools like ChatGPT and Midjourney into the mainstream, people have been running around, exploring this new found world of accessible artificial intelligence tools.

In this month's issue of the magazine, we also decided to give them a try. And, the results to say the least, were impressive. While we did expect that AI tools were powerful, but when we gave them a shot at writing content for the magazine that has been taken care of as a child by our editorial staff, we did not expect it to impress us as much as it did.

The ease with which they can be operated, and the results that most of these tools produce just by taking cues from a few phrases is amazing. We are in awe. And, are sure that you must have also given them a try and must have been as amazed by the results as we were.

So this month we decided to bring you a FastTrack that will help you get ahead of the curve by helping you understand the world of AI. Last month
