

14 > Tech to enhance focus

Whether you're working on a complex project, studying, or trying to unwind, Brain.fm tailors its music to your current needs.

Focus Keeper

Focus Keeper leverages the Pomodoro Technique to boost productivity through high-intensity work bursts followed by short breaks. Users can customise session lengths to suit their personal rhythm, while the app tracks the number of Pomodoros completed. It also provides visual and auditory cues to keep you on track and motivated throughout your workday. Focus Keeper is particularly useful for individuals who struggle with time management and those who experience burnout from prolonged periods of focus. By encouraging regular breaks, Focus Keeper helps maintain peak mental performance and reduce fatigue.

Engross

Engross combines a focus timer with task management features to help users manage their time and stay productive. The app includes a unique functionality where users can tap a button whenever they are distracted. This feature helps users recognize distraction patterns and adjust their focus strategies accordingly. Engross also offers a planner to set and track work sessions and tasks, making it a comprehensive tool for personal productivity. It's designed for students, professionals, and anyone else who needs to keep distractions at bay and maintain high levels of concentration.

Focus-To-Do

Focus-To-Do integrates the Pomodoro Technique with powerful task management capabilities. The app allows users to organise tasks into projects, set priorities, and track deadlines. Each task can be tackled using a Pomodoro timer, helping to maintain focus and momentum. Focus-To-Do also syncs across devices, ensuring that your task list and schedules are always up-to-date. Additionally, it provides detailed reports on your productivity, allowing you to analyse and optimise your work patterns. This app is ideal for individuals who need to manage complex projects and prefer a structured approach to work.

Session

Session helps users improve their productivity by utilising focus cycles—short, intense periods of work followed by a break. This app is designed to keep distractions at bay while providing analytics to track productivity and time spent on tasks. Session's clean, minimalist interface reduces cognitive load and helps users stay focused on their tasks without additional distractions. The app also allows for customization of session lengths and break times, catering to different working styles and preferences.

Focus

Focus is specifically designed for Mac users to help manage and block distractions on their computers. The app is highly customizable, allowing users to set rules for blocking websites and applications during work sessions. Focus also integrates seamlessly with macOS features like Notification Centre, where it can provide motivational quotes and productivity tips throughout the day. This makes it an excellent tool for professionals and students who want to maintain a high level of productivity on their Mac devices.

Focus Bear

Focus Bear is a browser extension that helps users avoid distractions while working on the internet. It allows you to set timers for focus sessions and block distracting websites temporarily. What sets Focus Bear apart is its ability to provide insights into your browsing habits, helping you understand and improve your online behaviour. The extension is simple to use and integrates directly into your browser, making it an accessible tool for anyone needing to enhance their focus while working online.

ClickUp

This is a versatile productivity tool designed to accommodate all your task management needs in one platform. It combines project management features with task lists, documents, and calendars, making it ideal for teams and individuals alike. ClickUp offers customizable views, such as List, Board, and Box, allowing users to tailor the interface to their workflow preferences. With robust automation features and integrations with other tools, ClickUp enhances efficiency and streamlines processes, making it easier to track projects, meet deadlines, and collaborate seamlessly across tasks.

Taskade

Taskade is a simple, flexible tool for your lists, outlines, and tasks. It offers real-time collaboration allowing teams to work together on checklists, mind maps, and workflow charts seamlessly. Taskade's minimalist design focuses on enhancing productivity without overwhelming users with complex features. It can be used for managing personal tasks or team projects, offering features like chat, video calls, and task assignments to connect and coordinate with others effortlessly. Its versatility