If word games make you cringe and make you feel less of a man, if action be your bread and mayhem your butter, and bullets sweet delicious jam; you need to visit this little nook of the World Wide Web. Mmm, delicious actiony goodness! The great thing about this site is its simple layout. Right at the front page the Web site lists the Top Games (which are all cool), and its new entries. The Web site also has a downloads section. However, we do not quite trust the material here, and would recommend that you stick to the Web-based games.
