

1 View multiple subreddits at once

When we start browsing Reddit, we completely forget the time spent online. And yes, most of us open multiple subreddits in different tabs, which can totally clutter your browser, making it extremely messy and ruining your surfing experience. With this little trick you can relieve yourself from this annoying problem and you'll be able to open two or more subreddits on the same page.

Steps to follow: Just add two different subreddits in the url after '/r/' added with a '+' sign.

Example: <http://www.reddit.com/r/android+androidapps+google>

4 Put reddit on steroids

To greatly enhance your reddit experience there is a brilliant Chrome extension available online which will unlock never before experienced tweaks such as an infinite scrollable front page, logging in as multiple users and much more. So just download this Reddit Enhancement Suite and Enjoy Redditing!

5 Access you subreddits quicker

Everyone remembers their favorite subreddits and go through the pain of typing in the forward slashes '/' every time, but with this simple trick you won't have to deal with that hassle any more, making your reddit experience much better and faster.

Steps to Follow: Add the subreddit name at the front, just before reddit in the url separated with a full stop.

Example: www.pics.reddit.com

2 Create a slideshow made up of all pictures in a subreddit

Some of us visit reddit just to browse pictures. But the pages are usually filled with comments which can be a real turn off. What if we told you with this small tweak you could create a slideshow of all the images present on that subreddit?

Steps to follow: Just add a 'p' at the end of 'reddit' in the URL.

Example: <http://redditp.com/r/earthporn>

3 View comments as a continuous chronological stream

Don't you hate it when following a live event (AMAs) on reddit, all you see is the most upvoted comments on top? Usually when following a live event, you want everything showing up in chronological order, how do we sort this? By using Reddit

Stream, you'll be able to see all comments as they come in, similar to a chat log.

Steps to follow: Just add '-stream' after reddit in the url.

Example: <http://reddit-stream.com/comments/4im67s/>
