13 Browse reddit in your native language

Just like Facebook or Google, reddit also provides native language support. Not everyone is comfortable with reddit in English. With this small tip you'll be able to browse reddit in your preferred language.

Steps to Follow: Click on 'English' (The default language) and choose your desired language.

14 Link comments for maximum swag

Want to link to a comment thread on reddit, and the URL is too long? Or maybe you want to link to a particular redditor? Use the permanent link option present on their comments to quote them, when you want to link a comment thread, use the short link option which can be found on the right sidebar.

8 View reddit as RSS Feeds

We recommend you try this trick which will allow you see subreddits as rss feeds, thus enhancing your experience. You can use a website like <http://dgit.in/Fdly> to access your subreddits which will accumulate all the posts of the subreddit in a very neat way making it very attractive and readable.

Steps to Follow: Just add '.rss' at the end of your subreddit url. Copy the URL and paste it in Feedly link provided above.

9 Readr for Reddit

The Readr Google Chrome extension provides you with a minimalistic experience of longer posts, this is generally very helpful in subreddits which have long reading posts, AskScience for example. Just install this extension and start redditng on a distraction free reading page.

Link the Extension: <http://dgit.in/RdtRead>
