The rise of video content is yesteryear's news, yet still an applicable description of today's scenario. Cisco predicts that video content will account for 69% of consumer internet usage by the year 2017. It's no secret that video is also the best medium to communicate to the masses of laymen and experts alike. The simultaneous popularity, availability and accessibility of platforms like YouTube and Vimeo allow the modern marketer to leverage a little proper effort and planning for possibly phenomenal reach. This means increased efficiency for the entrepreneur on a budget, who can himself handle an additional core aspect of the business. However, it is not necessarily easy to produce video content. This has led to a new type of business that caters to such businesses and individuals by solving a need, easy video content production. These software businesses quite often provide their services completely online, so there is no hassle of downloading and installing software.

Now it's easier than ever before to impress your customers or investors, gather eyeballs for your next product launch or just surprise your fans with a funky new product feature! Merely having a video on a webpage (with relevant content) has been known to increase traffic by up to 55%! It's so darn simple that it would be a shame not to make a few videos, just for the fun of it! All you need to get started is a medium to high resolution logo and your message.

If you were doing this a couple of years ago, you'd need to hire (or become) highly skilled animators, investing a lot of money, time and effort into the simplest of renders. This doesn't even take into account the time it would take to acquire said skills, or the cost of professional video production software packages, to say the least. This makes it a no-brainer, to promote your company or product with minimum investment and effort, so make your videos the smart way!

The Easy Video Maker Market

While every business exists to make money, they also need to stand out by providing the most value. Nothing can be better for this than to give some value for free, which is what many of these businesses are doing with their offerings. Effortless production of video content that is tailor made for the viral generation. These online video makers help you spread your meme in the most effective package of your choosing. Of course, there are limitations on how much value or quality you get for the price of free, but it's very much better than nothing. In some cases it can be used to completely satisfy our requirements, with a bit of cheeky ingenuity of course! Here are the top picks from across the web:

PowToon

PowToon is the service that "Brings Awesomeness to Your Presentations". In fact the end product, which is a cartoon flavoured cross between a presentation and a video, is itself called a Powtoon. You can make your Powtoons with PowToon in the same way you're used to making presentations in Powerpoint or Keynote, except that you can choose dif-
