POKEMON GO

With Pokemon Go already taking over the world, we are about to see real life zombies in our neighbourhood. The isgame changing augmented reality game makes you get out of your couch, hunt for Pokemons and battle with others in your locality. If you're getting obsessed with this, we offer you a list of tips and tricks that will help you prevail over your opponents in the force.

Get Pokemon Go on your Android device

Pokemon Go, officially, hasn't made its way to India. The company is repressing the release in the country for few reasons (server load balancing, we assume). Although this is the case, the game is already popular in India as people are easily able to get it on their Android device. If you have searched for the game on the Play Store already, you are dismayed already with the search results. However, there are two ways in which you can get the game running on your Android phone. iOS users have no alternative than waiting till the game is officially launched.

1. Take help of your US friend and use his account to download the game. (Safest)
2. Get the APK available online at apkmirror.com, and install it directly on your phone.

Disclaimer: The second method is unsafe and not completely legal. The APK might contain malware which will affect your phone. So proceed at your own risk.

Block Pokemon Go content from websites

Internet today is flooded with Pokemon Go content. If you are the guy who's sick of it and the very mention of the game makes you cringe, here is the Google Chrome extension that will hide PokemonGo related content. Named as "Pokemon NO! Pokemon BLOCKER!", it can be downloaded from <https://chrome.google.com/webstore/detail/pokemonnopokemonblocke/fcfkedekimblhldjbiphfhobkafkeab> for free.

Although there are few more extensions that serve the purpose, this one worked the best for us. It selectively removed all the Pokemon Go mentions without affecting the other content on the page.

Restart game frequently for better experience

We will recommend you to restart the game every 15 minutes for better ingame experience. This way the game performs better on Android device. Also, it removes the "phantoms" near you and makes the list of Pokemons stay current.

Start the game with Pikachu

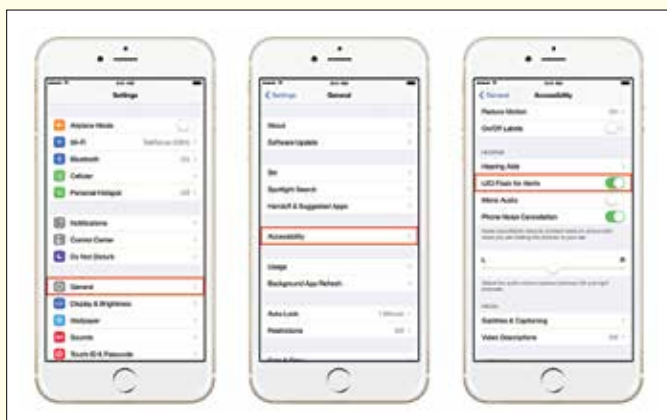

Ideally, the game starts with Charmander, Bulbasaur, or Squirtle. However, this neat hack at the beginning of the game will give you Pikachu (only if you are willing to walk). It only works at the very beginning of the game so new players can try this out. For those who are already playing, you'll have to create a new account.

After you've signed up and created your avatar, the game will start. Professor will prompt you to "Catch a Pokemon". Then, instead of catching, walk away from Bulbasaur, Squirtle, and Charmander. Once you've gone far away from these they'll respawn near you and your phone will vibrate. Ignore them and walk away again (in your neighbourhood). After doing it for multiple times, a fourth Pokemon a Pikachu will appear. It takes 4-6 tries for Pikachu to appear.

Evolve all at once

Do not evolve your Pokemons past its first evolution. Stockpile all the waiting evolutions. At level 9 you get a "Lucky Egg", which doubles your XP gained for 30 minutes. Make the most out of this Lucky Egg by activating it and evolving everything you've got. This will give
