

game features 5 randomly generated fortresses, each with their own unique aesthetic and enemies. There's a lot of loot to grab as you progress through the fortresses of the Daevas. You can craft your character through the procedurally generated skill tree with over 60 different skills to choose from. Enemies are inspired from the Indian mythos and have unique characteristics and abilities as well, making the game challenging. Asura also lets you duel heroes of the Daeva, Vanara, Naga and Hathira factions and unlock more as you defeat them.

HALT

HALT is a 2D run-and-gun platformer. The game revolves around a privately owned law enforcement where you play as Chris Tracy and Turner Chase who are getting real bored of their jobs. However, when a group called "The Human" start harassing the department, Chris and Turner finally have something to deal with their boredom. The game has a very retro arcadey feel to it with fast-paced action and bullet-hell elements. You can play as both Chris Tracy, the trigger-happy(obviously ripped off) cop and Turner Chase, the paranoid one. You can collect various ammo types within the game and combine them with upgrades. The game also has controller support if that's how you swing.

Legions of Tyrandel

Legions of Tyrandel is a unique hybrid between a card-based battle game and a turn-based tabletop game. Legions of Tyrandel is a strategy game designed for 2 players. There are 8 commanders to choose from and the cards you use to build your deck become the very troops you will command on the battlefield. There's over 150 cards to choose from when building your deck and they're all available right off the bat. Control the battlefield, capture objectives, and breakthrough your opponent's defences and claim your victory.

When It Hits the Fan

When It Hits the Fan is 2D top-down shooter inspired by classic arcade and SNES-era top-down shooters. There's 4 zones in the game with four apocalypse scenarios happening AT THE SAME TIME. There's a Zombie Invasion in the city, robots going out of control in the laboratory, demons spewing underground from hell, and an Alien invasion to beat back. There's many weapons to choose from and various power-ups to pick up. Of course there's a whole variety of enemies to face as well, from zombies(duh), to aliens(duh x 2), to robots(duh x 3), and demons(duh x 4) to name a few.

ShapeRockets

What would you get if you combine rock, paper, scissors with the FPS genre? You'd get ShapeRockets. ShapeRockets is a minimalist FPS where you choose one of either rock, paper or scissors and shoot your prey shape and run from your predator shape. You can change your shape on the go after a short recharge. The game allows for online play with 4-8 players and an online leaderboard as well. Three hits and you're dead, die three times and it's game over. May the best shape win!

Life Unfolds

Life Unfolds takes place in a small world which is vibrant and colourful. You can experience a complete life over the course of half an hour, going from childhood to old-age. Learn new skills, make friendships, start a family, and much more. The game emphasises on the best moments in life and capturing those moments and creating memories. Choose how you spend your time in the game carefully, it's a short life and you wouldn't want to miss out on anything. ✨
