Unwind

How we unwind

Mithun trolled

Have you ever heard the saying that the bigger they are, the harder they fall? Well, this time, tragedy struck our over-cautious VPN-everywhere security hardliner Mithun. Multiple debit cards owned by him faced security issues which gave him the shock of his life, and the rest of us something to troll him for a lifetime!

Presidential debates

In the last one month, the Presidential debates for the 2016 Presidential Election in the U.S, or as it is popularly known, a giant question mark on mankind's evolution so far, took place. And with Donald Trump involved, we all had a great (read: hilarious) time at the expense of the Gora Manus and their potential President.

Player 2 is in the House

We finally got a second controller for the PS4 in the test labs, which was just sitting there and gathering dust. Maybe now that two people can play together the poor PS4 will get more attention. Might be tough considering how we're all pro PC and anti-controller. Time to stock up on two-player games!

digit DIARY

Sorry guys, this time we have no option but to keep Digit Diary short. We started this month off pretty early, we even worked on weekends. Two of them! Imagine that. The idea was that we wanted to finish even earlier, something we've been attempting to do (but failing miserably at) for the past few months. If you're wondering whether we actually did manage to finish earlier, we didn't. Arnab was not with us for most of the month, as he had gone back home for Durga Puja, so we have an excuse ready if anyone asks why we didn't finish on time - we were a man down. We'd received a foot masager at the test labs for review and we all made sure to thoroughly test it. The day it went back was a woeful one. We made up for it by cranking up the air purifiers we got for testing and trying to hover all sorts of things on them. T'was fun. In other news Mithun has got a promotion which invited some more trolling. Looks like some things won't change.
