One of India's biggest annual conferences, NASSCOM Game Developers Conference 2016, was held at the Hyderabad International Convention Centre (HICC), HITEC City. NASSCOM Game Developers Conference 2016, or NGDC 2016 for short, brought together game developers, designers, publishers, investors, enthusiasts and platform specialists, over three days, 10-12th November 2016. In its 8th year, NGDC allows upcoming talent to interact with industry leaders and helps investors identify and foster them.

This year's NGDC had a much bigger lineup of sessions including 8 tracks, over 130 panelists and speakers, about 100 workshops / talks / panels and numerous showcases. Compared to its first year when there were only 170 participants, NGDC 2016, reportedly, had over 1700 of them this year. There was also a Women in Gaming Special Interest Group meet-up and the last day saw the NASSCOM Gaming Forum (NGF) Awards ceremony conducted with the aim of recognising Indian game development achievements and to foster the creation of more gaming IPs right here in India.

NGDC 2016 was inaugurated by NT Rama Rao, Minister of IT, Telangana; Alphonsus Stoelinga, Ambassador of Netherlands to India, Nepal and Bhutan; Rajesh Rao, Chairman of NGF and BVR Mohan Reddy, Chairman Emeritus of NASSCOM.
