Unwind

digit DIARY

It's that time of the year again and we're nose deep in products to test. To add to that we're short-staffed (aren't we always?). Abhijit not only has exams he has to study for, poor lad was suffering from a throat infection as well, and was stuck roosting at home for most of closing. Even the mere act of combing his hair would cause him to writhe in pain. At least we have a new Intern, Yanger, to hel- oh no he's sick too, GODDAMMIT!

Speaking of new Interns, Yanger is from Nagaland, making him our first ever intern from there!(we think) He showed up at the most opportune of times. The lad makes his way around the test rigs to inspect ... or so it seems.

In other big news, our comrade in arms Jayesh is no longer with us. Calm down he's not dead, he just quit. Yes, Big Daddy Shinde has quit and moved on to a better (we hope) place. But what we do know for sure is that he won't get another CS:GO team like ours so it's his loss. Unfortunately, for Siddharth though, he no longer has a duo buddy and is stuck with us Gold Nova plebs (he's one too btw). Sorry Sid, we're the best you're going to get, no more Jayesh to carry you. :(

So we're three down already, and look Nikhil has a wedding to attend, byeee Nikhil. Weee!!! four down now, and for the Zero1 issue no less. Gawd save us all.

Of course that wasn't enough, it's never enough is it? Demonetization strikes! Of course, we're a forward thinking bunch of people and we do most of our transactions online. Just take Mithun for example, the guy had only ₹70 on him when the demonetization bomb dropped on us, and he still has the ₹70 on him. Such brilliant money-management skills we tell you.

All hail the Queen!

Another brilliant Netflix original, The Crown came out this month and Arnab got hooked! It's based on Queen Elizabeth II and the British royal family from the 1940s to present day. The show captures the emotional turmoil surrounding the world's most popular royalty very well and shows that being a Queen, literally, is not always a cakewalk. Apart from the Monarch, everybody from Churchill to Philip Mountbatten makes an appearance and have been portrayed brilliantly. If you're a history buff this one is a must watch!
