Customisation - Wins or Fails?

Everything is customizable these days. Some people come up with the most amazing customizations, and then there's this lot...

Car lashes

What was the first thing that popped into your mind when you saw these? Was it "why would you want your car to have headlight lashes?" or "Wow! Those look pretty!"? The former right? There's absolutely no point to them. And it's definitely not going to make your car feel any prettier. If you thought the latter... erm, we don't judge?

Thomas the tank en-dragon?!

Thomas the dragon (formerly tank engine) has become something of a symbol when it comes to modding and Skyrim. Sure it doesn't make any sense and isn't immersive or lore-friendly at all, but it's still pretty darn funny. Watch as he aggressively choo-choos and breathes steam in this incongruous setting!

For your nose picking urges

This smartphone case comes with a nose on it. No, it's not because it comes with an app that can actually smell stuff. The only purpose of this case is for you to pick it (up). Get it? 'Pick it' up? Yep, it's a smartphone case based on nose-picking. Be honest, did you ever think you'd see the day?

Still better than a Mac

This is the latest product from Apple's labs and boasts better functionality than the best PCs in the market! Also it's red, just like the recent iPhone Red. Which means it's obviously more superior to its non-red brethren. It's really that good, trust us. We've reviewed it ourselves.

Who needs cabinet fans

Overheating is an issue a lot of us face, especially around this time. Why waste money on tiny cabinet fans when you can get the job done with one much bigger fan. Strap on this bad boy and you're good to go. You risk losing some small parts but you can probably replace them with the money you made from not buying fans.

The Galaxy Note 7 in GTA V

Ah, the GTA V exploding Note 7 mod. Because flinging explosive Note 7s at people is pretty funny. But, for obvious reasons, Samsung did not find it funny. So they did the "sensible" thing and tried to have videos featuring the mod taken off of YouTube citing copyright. Lol.
