

USE TECH TO MESS WITH PEOPLE

41 Autocorrect / iOS dictionary shortcuts (try this on your mom)

You may have seen a ton of these pranks online already but that doesn't make them any less funny. How it works is you go into your iPhone Settings > General > Keyboards. There, all the way at the bottom, you have dictionary shortcuts. What this lets you do is set a particular word or phrase to autocorrect to a different word when you type it out.

So you can take a phrase like wash or laundry and set it to autocorrect to a word or phrase of your liking. It could be a cuss word whoever you're pranking would never say, or some preposterous phrase. It's entirely up to you.

42 Change contact name

This is one is pretty standard. It's easy to understand and execute, and always effective. Just change the name of a contact on your victim's friends list and watch the fun. It's more effectively if you think the change through, like changing their mom's contact to their girlfriend or boyfriend's contact. Of course, this won't work on people who memorise numbers, but then again, who does that these days?

43 Switch somebody's ringtone out with an embarrassing one

Along similar lines as the previous prank, all you need to do is get your hands on an unsuspecting victim's phone and switch out the ring tone with the most embarrassing song you can think of. The first one that comes to mind for us Barbie Girl by Aqua, for example. You can go with the classic Baby by Justin Bieber as well. And make sure to set the ringtone volume to max as well. All you need to do now is be patient and call them when you know they'll be in a really crowded place.

44 Make your friends think their phone camera has gone bad

This one will only work on people who use phone cases, which is the majority thankfully for us pranksters. So how the trick works is simple, you slip the victim's phone out of its case (of course you do this when they're not around, duh). Then you proceed to paste a small strip of transparent tape over the camera and flash sensors of the phone. Now you can go ahead and put the case back on the phone. You'll notice that you can hardly tell that there's tape on there. Now what you do is you pick a marker of your colour of choice, and colour in the area on the tape that's directly over the camera lens.

The next time your friend wants to take a picture, everything will be a shade of whatever colour you marked over the tape and they're going to think their expensive camera phone is ruined.

45 Create a shortcut to shutdown.exe -s -t 30 and change the icon to a normal folder

This one is evil. We love it! Just right click on your desktop and create a new shortcut. In the wizard that pops up asking you for the location, simply type out: "shutdown.exe -s -t 30". 30 here is the timer, you can change that as you desire.

The next step is to disguise the shortcut, preferably as a shortcut you know they access. It could be MS Word, or their favourite game, anything is fine as long as you can change the shortcut's icon to it. Appropriately rename the shortcut to match its icon obviously. You're all set, now you just sit back and watch the chaos that follows.

46 Freeze your friends desktop

This one is also pretty evil so it gets our seal of approval. It's also extremely easy to pull off. Find a moment when your friend is not on
