Need some gaming advice? What's the right mouse for you? That new game not running on your PC? Check out the post below, and also some of the other discussions taking place at www.thinkdigit.com/facebook.

Samar Headshot Rawat

I am looking for a good gaming mouse upto Rs. 4000. I have zeroed down to the Corsair Vengeance M60 and the Razer Deathadder, and now I am really confused.....I play slow paced games like Counter-Strike, Call of Duty and also really fast-paced games like Quake 3, I basically play FPS games. Plz. suggest Anirudh Regidi I haven't used the Deathadder but I've heard it's a good mouse. The Corsair M60 is an excellent mouse and very well-built and has adjustable weights. It is a bit wide though, so keep that in mind before purchase. I personally prefer the M90 to any other mouse I've tested. A bit on the heavy side though.

Want to setup parental controls? Help is at hand.

Royal Gopal

i want my little brother to study at the time of study. So, i want to lock my computer for a period of time say for 2 hours a day. Is there any program or apps to help me in that case?

Ajit Singha Roy You can restrict computer access at a particular time of the day by changing the settings on your computer. Restricting access prevents individuals from using the computer and Internet connections during that time of the day. This can be helpful for people who have children and need to limit their computer use

Ajit Singha Roy follow

Turn on your computer and wait until the desktop loads. Go to the "Start" menu, click "Control Panel" and click on "User Accounts and Family Safety." Find "Parental Controls" and click on "Set up parental controls for any user."

Double-click the user to whom you wish to restrict computer access at certain time periods during the day. Under the user account, click "On, enforce current settings" to turn on Parental Controls.

Scroll down and click "Time limits" under "Window Settings." Click and drag the hours on the calendar that you want to block or allow. Click on "OK" when you are finished. Check under "Current Settings" to make sure "Time limits" shows "On" status. Click "Ok" on the "User Controls" tab to close the window.
