

Roccat launches Lua

The gaming peripheral manufacturer - "Roccat" has launched a new, basic Tri-Button gaming mouse called Lua

Jabra SPEAK 510 launched

Jabra introduced a new Bluetooth speakerphone called the SPEAK 510. Get it for ₹11,500. <http://dgit.in/UU6nLE>

Nokia Lumia 920

A phone comes of age

The Nokia Lumia 920 is a phone that many have waited for with baited breath and it is finally here. It runs on a dual-core 1.5 GHz Snapdragon S4 processor complimented by a whole 1GB of RAM. The PureMotion HD+ display developed by Nokia not only makes legibility under the sun a thing of the past, but also ensures completely blur-free scrolling, no matter how fast you do it.

Nokia's claims of the PureView camera's low light performance are true, as we've come to realize from our extensive testing. The camera takes good images in normal light, at par with the iPhone 5 if not better, but definitely leaves the competition behind when it comes to shooting in low to negligible light. While the optical image stabilization didn't really help a lot in photographs, its effectiveness in shooting video makes the camera stand tall.

The Nokia Lumia 920 also comes with a chunk of other goodies, like true Dolby sound processing thanks to the S4 processor. The NFC chip on the inside makes it possible to stream music without any connectors to compatible docks, which is really nice.

Last but not the least, there is the Windows Phone 8 OS, which in our opinion is a breath of fresh air in what has become a stale mobile OS environment. The resizable Live Tiles, the social integration along with a completely novel way of navigating through the UI. What we do feel lacking on the new mobile OS from Microsoft is the plethora of apps that we've come to love so much on other platforms. But there is no denying how amazing it is to have Microsoft Office come pre-installed. If you're in the market for picking up a smartphone, we'd strongly recommend giving the Lumia 920 a look.

Swapnil Mathur

Features	90
Performance.....	75
Build Quality	90
Value for money	65

Specifications

Platform: Windows Phone 8;
Processor: Dual-core Qualcomm Snapdragon S4 Plus clocking at 1.5GHz; RAM: 1GB; Display: 4.5-inch IPS LCD with 1280x768 pixel resolution and PureMotion HD+;
Camera: 8.7MP PureView Camera with 1080p HD videos; Battery: 2000mAh

Contact

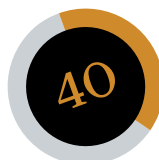

Nokia India
Phone: +91-11 30303838
Website: www.nokia.com/in-en

iDance Hipster 703

Bling bling bling!

With these headphones, the assault on the senses began first in the visual cortex, before proceeding anywhere near the aural region. The garish, tacky bling would compel even a seasoned welding worker to avert his eyes. The assault was also on the mind - why would headphones wilfully be named Hipsters? Oh the irony! Putting them through our gamut of tests offered us but one conclusion - these are strictly mediocre. The mids are muffled and the bass was on the boomy side. The last assault was on our intelligence and it came with the price tag. To think anyone would pay close to 5k for these headphones (especially after listening to them) is purely wishful thinking.

Features	50
Performance.....	50
Build Quality	40
Value for money.....	20

Specifications

Speaker Diameter: 44mm;
Impedance: 32 ohms; Response: 15Hz - 20 KHz; Cord Length: 1.5 m

Contact

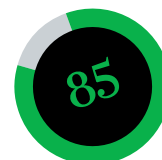

Acro Engineering Company
Phone: +91 11 40525645
Email: sales@acrotechindia.com
Website: www.idanceaudio.in

eScan Mobile Security

Packed to the brim with features

eScan Mobile Security for Android is a feature-rich suite with almost everything that you could possibly want for your phone. The overall system impact is minimal. In fact, some of our benchmark scores actually went up a bit. The call-blocking and parental controls work really well, though the parental controls do restrict you to only the default browser. The price of ₹499 seems a bit high for an Android app, but considering that mobile devices are part of our lives, this might be worth it. The suite threw up major issues with custom ROMs that we tried, so modders beware; for everyone else, this is an excellent security option.

Features	75
System Impact.....	100
Parental Controls	90
Value for money.....	75

Specifications

Real time scan; Call and SMS Filter;
Anti-theft; SMS Backup; Parental control

Contact

eScan India
Phone: +91 22 6772 2911
E-mail: support@escanav.com
Website: www.escanav.com