

2012 - INDIA IS STILL HOME TO 41% OF THE WORLD'S POOREST.

For India to truly change, we need to address this issue.

PRADAN is powered by the belief that the best minds in the country need to work at the grassroots to change the face of poverty in India. Their teams have been working with endemically poor communities for 30 years with some amazing results.

Their focus is to work with women and tribal communities across the poorest districts of India. They have introduced models, which have helped entire communities find livelihoods and emerge from poverty.

They have touched over 1 million people, changing their lives in a range of ways – from ensuring food and livelihood, to creating choice and dignity.

It may be time to take your head out of the ground. Donate now to help change the picture. For any further information on how you can help, please visit 30.pradan.net or send an email to campaign@pradan.net. You could choose to either make a personal donation or join hands with PRADAN as part of your CSR initiatives.
