

SOUTH AFRICA:

Where Holiday & Adrenaline Meet!

South Africa is arguably the adventure capital of the world with distinctions such as the world's highest bridge bungee jump and the world's only crocodile cage-diving. Before you think the country only has extreme adventures on offer, discover the bewildering range of mild to wild activities available. So what are you all adrenalin junkies waiting for, we have handpicked the 'Best of three' to tease the adventurer in you. Read along to whet your adventure appetite:

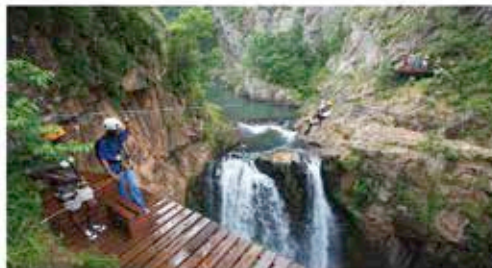

Bungee Jumping - Bloukrans Bridge:

Bloukrans Bridge is the place to go and experience the ultimate free fall. Located in the Western Cape, South Africa, it is the highest commercial bridge bungee jump in the world, and therefore it makes to the top of our list. Now, it is not every day that you get to plunge 216 metres into the stunningly beautiful gorge below.

Canopy Tour - Storms River

The first of its kind in Africa, Canopy Tours involve sliding from one high level forest platform to another along a steel cable suspended up to thirty metres above the forest floor. The tour consists of about ten platforms and slides that zig-zag down through a pristine forest valley or ancient rocky gorge, a unique way of experiencing the beautiful nature.

Adventorial

Shark & Crocodile Cage Diving

So, you want an eyeball to eyeball encounter with a Great White Shark? As you get suspended in a steel cage tied to a boat inside the ocean, shark cage diving in South Africa gives you a once in a lifetime adrenaline-packed close-up encounter with the Great White Sharks in its natural environment.

Do not forget to try the unique Crocodile cage-diving in Oudtshoorn for the ultimate up-close encounter with 4-metre long Nile crocodiles. Your specially built bite-proof cage is lowered into a clear water pool into to give you a high-adrenaline encounter with the ancient reptiles ■
